

Cheap essay

Essaydoc cheap essay writing service

Stanford University was founded by the former Governor of California, Lyond Stanford entrepreneur in 1891. In Stanford, more than 17,000 students study, most of the undergraduates and graduate students.

The project of the main campus was engaged in the architect and designer Frederick Low Olmster, who also designed the Central Park and Prospekt Park in New York. Now the student town is one of the largest in the United States - there are even 24 bus routes on its territory.

Currently, 17 Nobel laureates, 4 owners of the Pulitzer Prize, 288 members of the American Academy of Humanitarian and Natural Sciences and 109 members of the National Engineering Academy of Engineering, work and teach. The university invests huge funds in the development of research activities, as well as motivating students to create startups, some of which are funded by the university and its trustees.

In the Stanford University, the 31st President of the United States Herbert Hoover, founders of High-tech companies: Sergey Brin (Google), William Hewlett and David Packard (Netflix), Reid Hastings (Instagram), Mike Cyger; And also actress Sigurnie Weaver. Why should I do in Stanford University?

About 650 student communities covering a wide range of interests, including art, culture, media, politics. Also a mass of academic clubs, such as robotics, energy and others. more than 30 sports teams, including teams on rowing, cycling and chirliding; Prestigious diploma, which is valued by employers worldwide.

Strong directions:

engineering

Information Technology and Computer Science

Natural and accurate sciences

jurisprudence

Political Science and International Relations